AUSTRIA SIGNS PEACE TREATY AND HAPSBURG EMPIRE DIES

Bulgaria and Turkey Only Remain—Impressive
Scene at St. Germaine—Leaves Many Problems Unsolved.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
St. Germaine, France, Sept. 10.—Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian peace delegation, signed the peace treaty shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. It was the death warrant for the old Hapsburg empire that had been built up by centuries of conquest. This leaves but two more enemy countries to sign—Bulgaria and Turkey.

There was an impressive scene in the ancient palace when the signatures were affixed. The room was jammed, but the crowd was smaller and less mixed than that present in the famous Hall of Mirrors at Versailles when the German envoys signed the treaty.

In peace conference circles, it is admitted that, while the treaty tears to pieces the "crazy quilt" empire, and confines Austria to the narrowest possible territorial limits, it leaves in a state of ferment the new Danube nations which the conference set out to give peaceful independence. For this reason the treaty has fewer sincere friends than originally hoped for although the French press has been warmly supporting it.

There are still troublesome problems which the peace treaty fails to solve. They include ownership of the Duchy of Teschen.

The Teschen district includes valuable ore and mineral deposits. It has been tentatively decided that Poland has the strongest claim on this territory, but Czechoslovakia is fighting desperately to swing the conference to her view that Teschen is vitally needed to insure her economic future.

Austria is deprived of Dalmatia by the treaty, but leaves the apparently irreconcilable claims of Yugoslavia and Italy unsettled.

It is the same with Galicia which both Poland and Ukraine are claiming. The most serious trouble resulting from the treaty, however, is Roumania's intransigent attitude and Yugoslavia's hesitation regarding the great powers' determination to force them to sign special covenants providing for international supervision of their treatment of ethnic and religious minorities in former Austro-Hungarian territories. They have also adopted a protesting attitude against measures providing for international supervision of their economic policies so as to insure fair trading with other countries.

Roumania's case is largely a Jewish one. She resents the powers' imputations that she cannot be trusted to treat the Jews fairly and in this connection the Roumanian Jewish Association has just issued an appeal to the powers insisting upon international protection for the 800,000 Jews in Roumania. It is declared in some quarters that there is no doubt that, unless Premier Bratiano toes the mark, the supreme council will deprive Roumania of the great territories to which she is heir, and intrust them to the league of nations for administration.

The same treatment will be meted out to Jugoslavia if she continues refractory. It is believed, however, that Jugoslavia will yield within a week, fearing the loss of American backing for her Adriatic claims.

SURPLUS ARMY FOOD TO BE ON SALE HERE SATURDAY OR MONDAY

Mayor Canfield received word today that the order given by him to the war department, for surplus food stuffs had been shipped yesterday. It is expected that the foods will arrive here in time to be on sale on Saturday of this week or on Monday.

Announcement will be made of the kind of foods and the quantity and the price of each before the sale. The order consists of about 60,000 pounds of goods. Plans have already been made to carry on the sale in such a way as to avoid confusion and the usual annoying circumstances which surround sales of this kind.

$50,000 PRICE ON VILLA'S HEAD

By Telegram to The Freeman.
San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 10.—With a price of $50,000 on his head, Pancho Villa has appeared in the Mexican city of Torreon leading a new force of 2,000 men. He is up to his old tricks again, terrorizing the district and harassing the Carranza forces with quick attacks and quicker retreats.

Reports of Villa's new activities reached the Mexican consulate and American army headquarters here today. Domingo Arrieta, governor of Durango, has gone to Mexico City to persuade Carranza to open up a real campaign against the bandit chief.

Villa all but captured the city of Durango in one of his lightning-like attacks. He led his men through the Cerro Del Mercado and Cerro de Romillos mountains, approaching the city through the municipal cemeteries. He easily captured the suburbs, but in a stiff fight he was prevented from reaching the main part of the city and retreated. After his retreat he blew up a military train on the Durango-Mesa line, which was bringing Carranza reinforcements.

Governor Ortiz, of the state of Chihuahua, has offered a reward of $54,000 for Villa's capture.

STEEL STRIKE IF GARY DON'T TALK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 10.—A strike of the steel industry will be called within 48 hours unless President Wilson, in the meantime, can assure the heads of the twenty four unions with which the workers are affiliated, that there is some possibility of a conference with E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation. This was made evident in a telegram sent to President Wilson at St. Paul, Minn., and made public by the union presidents today.

PERSHING LEADS FIGHTING FIRST DOWN 5TH AVE.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Sept. 10.—General John J. Pershing made his first appearance in America at the head of his victorious overseas troops here today when he led the famous fighting first division and his own composite regiment—"Pershing's Pets"—down Fifth avenue between banked masses of humanity that shattered all cheering records.

The weather was gray and foggy and sunless with a threat of rain in the heavy wet breeze. But in spite of mist and murky clouds began gathering along the line of march before 10 o'clock, the hour set for the lean locked ranks of helmeted doughboys to the southward at 100th street to start their long hike to Washington arch.

From the long vanguard which began lining the streets and rooftops and filling the grand stands, it was early evident that the police had not exaggerated when they made arrangements to handle a crowd of probably 2,000,000 persons.

Six thousand policemen held the exuberant multitude in check.

The tumult and shouting which greeted General Pershing on his arrival on Monday was again enacted today on a bigger scale than ever, not only more people got a chance to see the world soldier at close range but sight of the long khaki clad column that followed him made a quiver little thrills run up and down the spines of the spectators and brought tears of excitement to the eye and made people yell whether they wanted to or not.

The troops began forming an hour before the vanguard of the procession swung south with General Pershing, a stern, martial figure proudly erect on his charger "Captain" in the lead.

There was a crash of brass band music, a long rattle of cheer and then the echoing rumble of mail-studded shoes and the magnificent parade was under way. There were 25,000 men in line as well as guns.

Fifth avenue was one mass of flags and bunting from end to end.

LODGE PRESENTS ALTERED TREATY TO DIVIDED SENATE

Stage Set for Big Battle Over Ratification—
Hitchcock's Minority Report to Be Made Thursday.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The treaty of peace with Germany was reported to the senate this afternoon by Senator Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

The treaty was a much altered document from the one that President Wilson brought back from Versailles and submitted to the senate on July 14 last.

Textual amendments had been made, reservations adopted, and these will form the battleground between opponents and proponents of ratification by the senate of the document as it was signed at Versailles.

Sensor Lodge announced that he proposed to keep the treaty continuously before the senate until it was finally disposed of. This means that it will take precedence over all other legislation.

A minority report prepared by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, as leader of the administration forces in the committee and on the floor, will be presented by him to the senate tomorrow. It will be a reply to Senator Lodge's report, as well as a presentation of arguments in favor of ratification of the treaty without textual amendments or material reservations.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Instead of the United States being left out of the league of nations if the senate refuses to accept the treaty of Versailles without reservations or amendments, the "other nations" will take us on our own terms, for without our league is a wreck, and all their gains from a victorious peace are imperiled," Senator Lodge, Republican of Massachusetts, asserted in the majority report on the treaty submitted by him to the senate this afternoon as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Lodge's report bristled with ironical and critical references to arguments advanced by President Wilson on his present speech-making tour to support his contention that unless the senate ratified the treaty without material change the United States would be deprived of immediate membership in the league and would face the alternative of staying out of it altogether, or entering it later with Germany.

"Clamor about delay in the committee, in considering the treaty," Lodge declared to be "largely the work of the administration and its newspaper organs and was so far wholly artificial."

"Artificial also was the demand for haste disseminated by certain great banking firms which had a direct pecuniary interest in securing an early opportunity to reap the harvest of the financial obligations of the countries which had been engaged in the war," Lodge added.

"This covenant of the league of nations is an alliance and not a treaty, which is simply shown by the treaty with Germany which vests all powers in five great nations," Lodge said. "Those same nations, the principal allies and associated powers, also dominate the league through the council."

"The committee believes that the league as it stands will breed wars instead of securing peace. They also believe that the covenant of the league demands sacrifices of American independence and sovereignty, which would in no way promote the world peace but which are fraught with the gravest dangers to the future safety and well being of the United States. The amendments and reservations (adopted by the committee) alike are governed by a single purpose and that is to guard American rights and American sovereignty, to encourage breaches of faith, to stimulate conflicts and generate wars. The United States, as she has served it in the past, and do more to secure liberty and civilization throughout the world by proceeding along the paths she has always followed and by not permitting herself to be fettered by the dictates of other nations or entangled in all the broils and conflicts of Europe."

"We have heard it frequently said that the United States must do this and do that in regard to this league of nations and the terms of the German peace. There is no must about it. 'Must' is not a word to be used by foreign nations or domestic officials to the American people or their representatives."

"Really nothing is the attempt to frighten the unthinking by suggesting that if the senate adopts amendments or reservations the United States may be excluded from the league. That is the one thing that certainly will not happen. The other nations know well that there is no threat of retaliation possible with the United States because we have asked nothing for ourselves and have succeeded nothing. We seek no guarantees, no territories, no commercial benefits or advantages. The other nations will take us on our own terms for without us their league is a wreck and all their gains from a victorious peace are imperiled. We seek nothing selfish for ourselves but we insist that we shall be the judges, and the only judges, as to preservation of our rights, our sovereignty, our safety, and our independence."

"At this moment the United States is free from any entanglements or obligations, which legally or in the name of honor would compel her to do anything contrary to the dictates of conscience or to the freedom and the interests of the American people. This is the hour when we can say precisely what we will do and exactly what we will not do and no man can ever question our faith if we speak now."

"When we are once caught in the meshes of a treaty of alliance or the league of nations composed of twenty six other powers, our freedom of action is gone. To preserve American independence and American sovereignty and thereby best serve the welfare of mankind, the committee proposes these amendments and reservations."

Lodge took up one by one each of the four reservations in chief, sponsored by himself, and adopted by a majority of the committee, which were incorporated in the resolution of ratification.

In regard to the first reservation, that giving the United States the unconditional right to withdraw from the league upon the two years' notice specified in article 1 of the covenant, Lodge said:

"On such a point as this there must be no doubt. The United States, which has never broken an international obligation, cannot permit all its existing treaties to be reviewed and its conduct and honor questioned by other nations. The same may be said in regard to the fulfillment of the obligations of the league. It must be made perfectly clear that the United States alone is to determine as to the fulfillment of its obligations and its right of withdrawal must therefore be unconditional as provided in the reservation."

Referring to the second reservation, under which the United States would decline to assume "any obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country, or to interfere in controversies between other nations," under article 10 or any other article of the covenant, or accept a mandatory for any country except by congressional action, Senator Lodge proceeded:

"Constitutional rights of congress must not be impaired by any agreements such as are presented in this treaty, nor can any opportunity of changing the United States with bad faith be permitted. No American soldiers or sailors must be sent to fight in other lands at the bidding of a league of nations. American lives must not be sacrificed except by the will and command of the American people, acting through their constitutional representatives in congress."

Then taking up the third reservation, that relating to the right of the United States to deal exclusively with its domestic questions, Lodge said:

"This reservation speaks for itself. It is not necessary to follow out here all the tortuous windings, which to those who have followed them through the labyrinth disclose the fact that the league under certain conditions will have power to pass upon and decide questions of immigration and tariff, as well as the others mentioned in the reservation. It is believed by the committee that this reservation relieves the United States from any dangers of any obligations in this direction."

And finally disposing of the fourth reservation, that concerning the Monroe Doctrine, Lodge said:

"The purpose of this reservation is clear. It is intended to preserve the Monroe Doctrine from any interference or interpretation by any foreign powers. As the Monroe Doctrine has protected the United States, so it is believed by the committee, will this reservation protect the Monroe Doctrine from the destruction of which it is threatened by article 21 in the covenant of the league and leave it, where it has always been, within the sole and complete control of the United States."

In replying to criticisms of the committee for not having reported the treaty sooner, Lodge said in part:

"Deducting Sundays and a holiday, the treaty has been before the committee on foreign relations for 45 days. The committee met on 27 of those working days, sitting whenever possible, both in the morning and in the afternoon."

The eight working days upon which the committee did not sit were lost owing to unavoidable delays in securing the presence of witnesses summoned by the committee, in view of the fact that six months were consumed by the peace conference in making the treaty. In addition to a month of work by the various delegations before the assembling of the conference, the period of six months consumed by the committee in considering it does not seem excessive."

GREENE DECIDES BRIDGE SHALL BE OF SUSPENSION TYPE

Foundation Work to Begin Soon—Bridge Contracts to Be Let by Feb. 1—Suspension Can Be Built Quicker and Cost Will Be $300,000—Print on View.

A print showing the type of bridge finally decided by Commissioner Greene and Mr. Moran, the engineer, to adopt for the Rondout creek was received today by Mayor Canfield, who is chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on the bridge matter. Preliminary plans for four types of bridges had been worked up and the suspension type was finally adopted.

Four reasons caused Commissioner Greene to adopt this type. First, the peculiar conditions of the bottom which necessitated extensive and costly foundations; second, the complications which made it necessary to have a large span across the canal and railroad tracks on the north side of the river; third, the question of construction cost, and fourth, rapidity of construction.

It was decided that a suspension bridge can be completed in less time than any other type, and the bridge itself can be built for approximately $300,000. Completed plans and specifications for all foundation work and the anchorage are expected to be ready by September 15th and the contract for that work will be let soon thereafter. While the foundation construction is in progress the necessary details relative to the superstructure will be planned, and then a second contract will be let for that work. Finally, a third contract will be let for the necessary approaches.

The sketches show a bridge with graceful lines but not so massive as the type heretofore shown. The sketches have been submitted to the War Department for its approval. As there is no pier in the stream and it is spanned at the proper height it is expected that such approval will be given as a matter of course.

Commissioner Greene informed Mayor Canfield he had hopes of letting the complete contracts for the bridge by February 1st next, and that at some time during the spring contracts for the approaches at the southern end will probably be let. The latter contracts may require additional funds.

The print is on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce rooms where it may be viewed by anyone interested.

STATE GUARD TO REPLACE BOSTON POLICE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Boston, Sept. 10.—The state guard was called out by Mayor Peters today to maintain order in this city as the result of the police strike. It was announced that soldiers would be on the street within a few hours. The action followed a storm of protests by citizens as the result of the looting of stores and holdups last night.

Under the law the mayor was empowered to call out only the tenth regiment, but Governor Coolidge was requested to furnish additional troops.

The mayor announced that he would take the entire police situation into his own hands and protect the citizens of Boston and their property.

The entire state guard is composed of six thousand men made up of three regiments of infantry, a motor corps of four companies and one troop of cavalry.

"The home guard companies in each town will be merged into one large unit and that will be transferred into the national service." The general continued.

JUMPED TRESTLE TO AVOID TRAIN

Sanford Van Deusen and Edgar Conklin Caught on Railroad Trestle and Leaped to Escape Being Hit—Van Deusen in Kingston City Hospital.

Sanford Van Deusen of No. 376 Hasbrouck avenue, and Edgar Conklin of No. 129 Highland avenue, leaped from a railroad trestle on the Central New England Railroad at Rhinebeck Tuesday afternoon to avoid being hit by a train. They jumped a distance of about thirty feet, and narrowly escaped being killed. Both were brought to their homes in the automobile of Buckley & Schryver, and this morning Mr. Van Deusen was removed to the Kingston City Hospital.

Both men are in the employ of the Cunfield Supply Company on the Strand, and were engaged on a contract job at the Vincent Astor estate in Rhinebeck. They had completed their work for the day, and had started for home intending to cross over on the ferry transport. They were walking the high trestle of the railroad when a train approached so fast that to escape being run over they had to leap from the trestle.

Conklin landed on his feet, but Van Deusen in turning to jump was either hit by the train, or lost his balance and fell off the trestle backwards and landed in a heap on the ground below. The train was stopped, and both men were picked up and placed aboard and taken to the railroad station. There they were placed in the automobile of Buckley & Schryver, who were also working on the job, and brought home.

Both men were seriously injured, but it is not expected that their injuries will prove fatal.

Boynton Square Pot Boilers steam up quickly. An even heat is maintained, for the fire is kept clear of ash and clinker. The exclusive square form of firepot allows the use of grate bars all of the same length. Ashes drop as freely at all sides as in the center. Cutter bar smashes clinkers.

Like the firebox of an engine boiler, the firepot of the Boynton is square. The square bed of coal heats a greater radiating area and uses less coal. Only Boynton-made boilers for domestic use have square firepots.

HOMESPUN YARN.

The first point in table manners is to be prompt at each meal.

One man complains that he doesn't get full wear out of his shirts before his wife makes them into mighty neat kitchen aprons for herself.

Home making is as much of a business as any that is connected with selling the farm crops. Thrift in the home is more than ever necessary in these times.

Ever try a sand bag instead of a hot water bottle? The bag must be of closely woven material and then placed in still another bag. When thoroughly heated, sand remains hot a long time.

AGRICULTURE.

Some weed seeds keep their vitality for 25 years. To down weeds keep them from producing seed.

This little pig went to market; this little pig got hog cholera. Incubation would have saved him.

American apples are popular in England and in Argentina. New York growers may study the export trade with profit.

The Hessian fly won't get your wheat if you wait until a safe time to sow your seed. If in doubt, your county agent will be glad to advise you.

Interesting reading as well as informational is "How the Plant Produces Seed," the new bulletin which the State College at Ithaca, N. Y., will send you. Ask for R. C. F. 144.

If the folks of a community did as much for the local paper as the local paper does for the community there would be fewer weekly newspapers going out of business because they can't make the cash book balance.

In the number of newspapers and periodicals, the United States leads all other countries, with England second. In periodicals and printed matter on agriculture, the pre-eminence of this country is especially marked.

Small fruits of all kinds brought higher prices this year than ever before. Still thousands of New York farms do not have enough of these fruits for their own use. Why not start planting some of them this fall?

Sure Relief

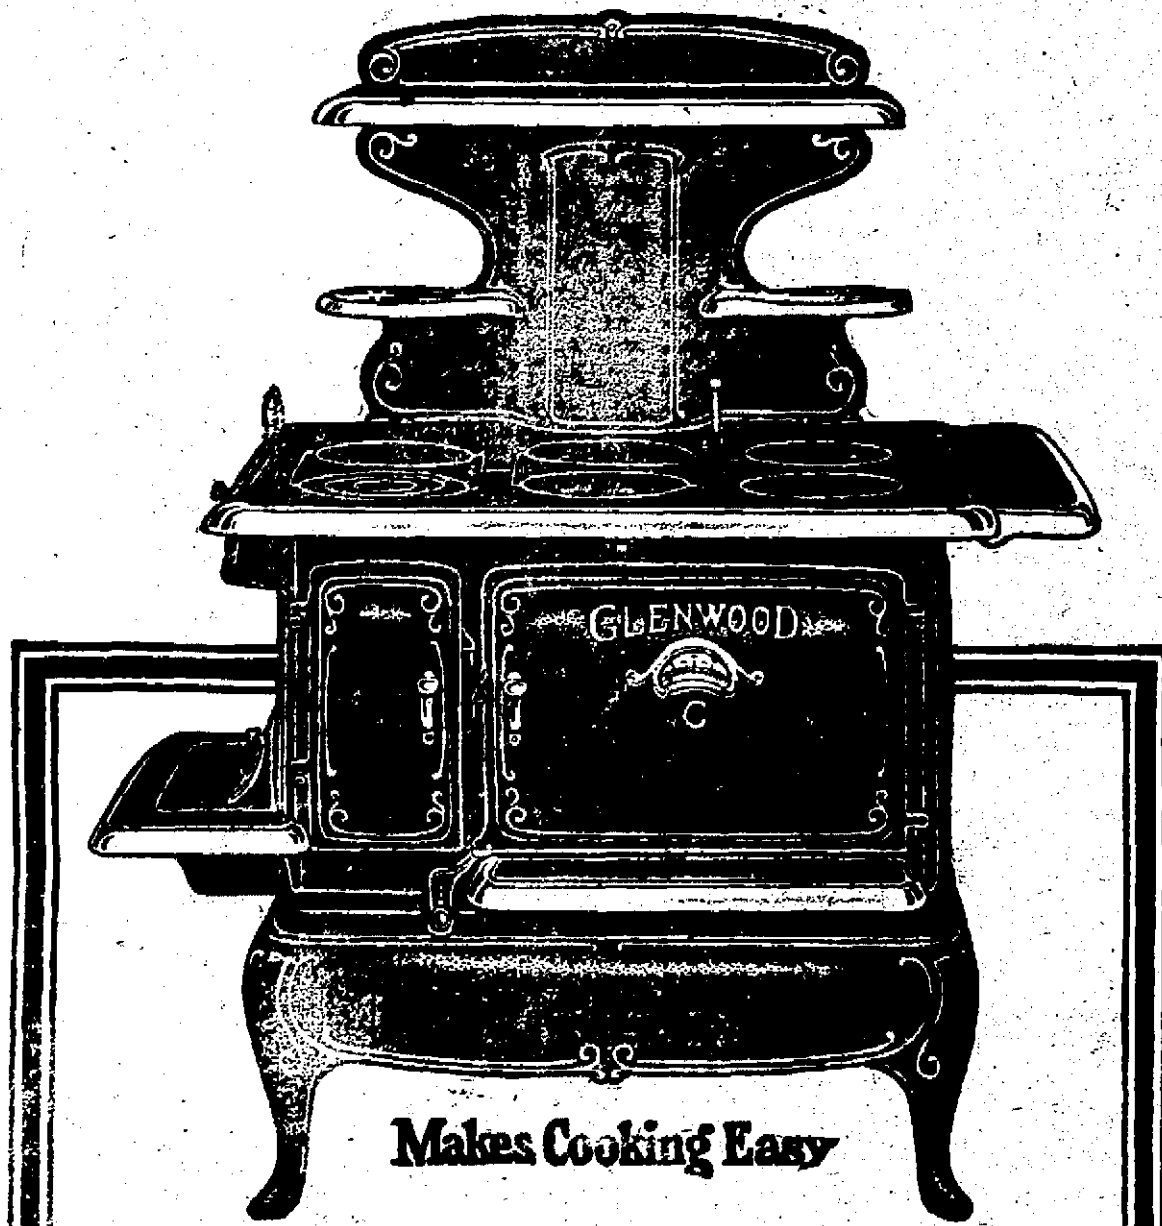

Cause of Gail-Berl.

The explanation of Gail-Berl as due to absence of a specific food material, or vitamin, has been shown by Dr. F. M. R. Waishe to be insufficient. Fowls deprived of the vitamin failed to develop the disease, and the experiments made indicate that besides absence of the vitamin the use of certain foods is necessary to supply the direct cause of the disease. Much evidence suggests that the carbohydrates supply this direct cause. In the absence of the specific vitamin, preserving health seems to generate toxic products, and through these products they give rise to a kind of intoxication.

She Wanted Progress.

"No, sah. Ah don't never ride on dem things," said an old colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen dat Rastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' git off at de very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him: 'Rastus, I sez, 'yo' spent yo' money, but whar 'yo' been?'"—Boston Transcript.

The Colon Is the Home of Health—Keep It Clean!

FALL HOUSE-CLEANING is at hand. It's a hard job, at best. But consider what an impossible task it would be if the house hadn't been getting its regular daily cleaning all these months!

Long before this no one could have lived in it. The accumulated dust and dirt, which is fairly easy to down day by day, would have so clogged the quarters that they would be uninhabitable. Your Colon is the house where your health lives. It has different "rooms" in which your daily physical welfare "lives". These "rooms" are long and narrow. So they are easily clogged. And when constipation clogs them, your health has to get along the best it can in a home that isn't fit to live in, any more than a house clogged up with dust and dirt is fit for you and your family to live in.

Nujol is the broom that will keep this "home of health" in perfect order all the time.

Nujol is the only helper that will do this without turning things topsy-turvy and upsetting all the "rooms"—just as house-cleaning does.

By daily use of Nujol you can free yourself from all the disease-risk, discomfort and inefficiency that come from a clogged colon.

Nujol is not a medicine. Not the least particle of it is absorbed into the system. It is a clear, tasteless, odorless, absolutely HARMLESS softener and lubricant. A baby can take it with perfect safety. It doesn't upset the stomach or anything else. It simply keeps the home of your health CLEAN and COMFORTABLE.

Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist to-day, and read for free booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger."

SCRANTON POLICE ON STRIKE DUTY

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 10.—Police reserves were called out in Scranton today to quell riots as a result of a strike of 9,000 silk mill workers throughout Lackawanna county. Thousands of windows were smashed and many persons injured as the strikers marched throughout the county in a spectacular labor demonstration.

Nearly every silk mill from North Scranton to Carbondale is idle. The women silk workers visited every silk mill in the valley while on their strike and smashed windows, damaged buildings, broke machines and at each mill enlisted new recruits to their ranks. When they arrived at Archdale, the marchers numbered about 2,000.

Kenyon's Quitters.

By Telegram to The Freeman—

Washington, Sept. 10.—The "contemptible quitters" are not those who stand for reservations to the treaty of Versailles, nor those who are "trying to Americanize" the league of nations, but the "most contemptible quitters of history" are those who permitted Japan to take over Shantung "in violation of some of the fourteen points of the doctrine of self-determination," and of God's eternal justice," declared Senator Kenyon, progressive Republican of Iowa, in the senate this afternoon.

Burmese Marriages.

A curious idea among the Burmese is that people born on the same day of the week must not marry. Hence each girl carries a record of her birthday in her name, each day having a letter belonging to it, and all children are called by a name that begins with that letter.

A Promise Kept

By GENEVIEVE ULMAR

It was a district where law and order prevailed only where the community centers showed numerical strength. Outlawry was the rule where reckless groups banded together along the ranges, and family and tribal feuds ran through two, and even three generations.

It was at Acton that Reuben Lane and his daughter Elsie lived. She was the belle of the county, in the full bloom of lovely maidenhood. Mr. Lane was in his little one-story office one evening, when a rough looking man mounted on horseback dashed up to the place, entered it, there was a shot, the visitor came out swiftly, leaped to the saddle, and was off in a flash.

"It's a murder!" announced the first man summoned by the echo of the report, as he found Reuben Lane lying lifeless beside his desk.

"And robbery," added another.

The dreadful news utterly crushed Elsie. It was only after the funeral that she regained composure and fortitude. Over that sunny face came a cloud, into the depths of her eyes a purpose. She was almost stern as she said:

"An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth," that was ingrained with my dead father. I know what he would have me do. I will divide my fortune and marry the man who will bring to justice the cowardly assassin."

That day there appeared at the office of Lawyer Barton, the executor of the estate, a man who was considerable of a mystery in the section. He was known as Alvin Morse, and had come to Acton about a year previous. He grew a long beard that covered up all of his face except the bright, sunlit eyes. He made his living by hunting and acting as a guide to prospectors and speculators looking for iron and coal prospects. Rough looking, uncouth, he entered the lawyer's office with the bearing of a natural athlete and man of courage.

"I just heard of the killing of Mr. Lane," he said. "I understand that so far as trace of the murderer has been reported. I saw the report. He gave me two clues; the revolver dropped by the assassin, and a description of his horse. I have seen both before. I know the man and I am going after him."

time, the visitor noted a veiled figure seated back in the shadow. His countenance was instantly doffed.

"You know the reward," spoke the lawyer. "Miss Lane here will divide her fortune with the man who brings her father's murderer to justice, and will become his wife, if he so elects."

"I shall ask no reward," returned Alvin Morse in clear, resonant tones. "Any real man would be glad to be of service to a woman in distress. Mr. Lane was an honor to the town and his death should be avenged."

"We have met before," spoke Elsie. "It was you who seized me to swing with me from the river trestle just in time to save me from an onrushing train."

"And get my own imperiled self out of danger as well," lightly remarked Morse, but his heart was aquiver as he recalled that dreadful, yet delicious moment when, clasping her dainty form, he swung a hundred feet over a yawning abyss.

Then two weeks passed by and one day a forlorn travel-worn figure indeed entered the office of the lawyer.

"The murderer is in the town jail," announced Morse quietly, "but dying. He drew his revolver on me; it caught in his coat, but I have what I promised—I got your man."

"I must send for Miss Lane at once," spoke Mr. Barton. "The reward—"

Morse held up a silencing hand. "Let all that be forgotten," he said. "The money I would not take. As to the girl herself, and his voice lowered to tenderness and longing, "I am not of her grade. I am a fugitive from justice charged with robbing a bank up North, of which I was a cashier. It was some burglar, but I was accused unjustly and fled, a broken man, to hide in this wilderness."

It was a new Alvin Morse who started the lawyer and Elsie Lane the next morning as they sat in consultation. He was arrayed in new attire, the thick beard was gone, youth, vivacity, intelligence, hope showed in every feature of that handsome face, and Elsie regarded him with bright-eyed color.

"I have a strange story to tell," narrated Morse. "I felt a pity for the prisoner, on account of his destitute wife and child, and I promised to see that they were provided for. Then, as he told of his many past criminal deeds, he changed to confess the horrid story of the bank where I was employed. He made a written confession, completely clearing me of guilt. I am a free man at last."

"A Lane never went back on a promise," said Elsie. "I will keep my promise, Mr. Barton. We will divide my father's estate evenly."

"I shall never accept it," declared Morse with finality.

"Then—then—the further please—"

"Let that wait," spoke the lawyer, seeking to relieve the pending embarrassment.

rumor of the moment and spare the blushes of Elsie and the delicacy of feeling of the young man—and it did!

AGAINST WAGES FOR WIVES

Gathering of Women Ridicule the Idea, Labeling it as "Commercializing the Home."

Wages for wives were turned down by an audience largely of women here the other night after a debate on whether husbands should be required to pay such wages, says the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

One speaker drew a dismal picture of the future of romance with wives working for wages.

"Imagine a scene like this," he said: "Honey, do you love me?"

"Of course I love you."

"Then will you marry me?"

"Well, maybe. How much do you pay?"

"Suppose the wives were to join the soror of waiters-up and charge triple wages for waiting up nights for husbands," he said.

"Imagine a wife going into society and being labeled a $15-a-week wife. A woman can take a last-year hat and make it look like new. But when she signed a contract for $15 a week there would be no hiding it from the neighbors."

Another speaker pleaded that "woman shall not be brought down from her pedestal as a queen and made a mere employee of man." In depicting the future of romance under the wage system, he said the marriage ceremony would have to be revised to read:

"With this ring I hire thee, and will pay thee $15 a week by the aid of the world, the flesh and the devil."

Notices like the following he predicted would be published:

"Married—John Brown and Mary Smith, by Rev. Russell H. Conwell. They will live in Logan and the wife's wages will be $15 a week."

Scenes like the following in court were forecast:

"Judge, he hired me for $20 a week and he is now two weeks overdue in my pay. I'm going to get a new boss."

LOOKING AHEAD A FEW YEARS

Remarks That Will Be Merely Ordinary When the Blimp Has Been Finally Perfected.

Augustus Tolliver, the soap king, strode wrathfully out of his stateroom aboard the blimp and seized the arm of the porter.

"Idiot!" he roared, "why didn't you give me a call this morning? I told you I had to be in London for a directors' meeting at 6 a. m. sharp, and now London is Lord knows how many thousands of miles in my rear."

"Ah pounded on ye' door, boss, but ye' refuses to waken," replied the porter.

The soap king pulled out a watch. "Eleven-thirty," he granted disgustedly. "Where are we now?"

"Test passed over St. Louis, boss; we'll be back in N' York at 12:05."

"Oh! well," said Tolliver. "I can attend that 12:30 meeting of the soap powder people and catch the 1:30 blimp for London."

Rat Skins for Leather.

The suggestion has been made that the rat problem might be best solved by making use of the skins of the rodents for the purpose of leather.

Somebody with the gift of guessing computes that there are 10,000,000 in this country, and the damage they do would feed a good-sized army. It would take at least 3,000 skins a day to supply a small medium tannery.

Nobody wants the rats, they belong to anybody that can catch them. That is the problem—to catch them, and then deliver the goods. There is not enough leather to go around.

Fish skins are susceptible of tanning, and there are rat skins which make good leather, large enough for many purposes.

Bridegroom Grows in Importance.

The war has given the bridegroom a significance he never before possessed. Formerly wedding notices were devoted to the bride, her trousseau, her bridesmaids and her family. The bridegroom was mentioned only incidentally, if at all. By reason of his rank, he has become one of the most important persons in the attention of the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Dry Land for Batteries.

A dry battery utilizing red mud, instead of the usual manganese compound, has been patented by H. Conant. It is claimed that the red mud battery lasts longer than the type now in vogue, may be kept inactive for months without any deterioration and may be recharged at least ten times, with each recharge as efficient as any present battery.

LAWLESS RISE WHEN BOSTON POLICE STRIKE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Sept. 10.—More than 100 stores had shattered windows today after a night of terror and rioting such as Boston never before experienced as the result of the walkout of the policemen yesterday evening. Two men were shot, one probably fatally. Throughout the night and early morning gangs of men and boys surged through the streets of the downtown business section, in the north and west ends and in South Boston, smashing windows, pillaging stores, holding up and robbing people and attacking women. The promised volunteer protection did not materialize. Small bands of inspectors were rushed to various places where rioting was in progress.

Labor leaders admit that the city is threatened with a general strike if the police situation is not settled quickly. Sympathetic action is being discussed by the telephone workers. Boston elevated employees, both of whom were recently on strike; stationary firemen and building trades workers, which would result in paralyzing all the activities of the city.

A special meeting of the Central Labor Union has been called for Thursday to discuss a general strike. Mayor Peters, who had been practically told by Police Commissioner Curtis "to mind his own business" when he sought to intervene in the situation, called a conference of leading business men today to formulate plans for ending the strike.

The night began with the ringing of false alarms and the breaking of store windows by gangs of small boys. It rapidly developed into organized looting, which resulted in a score of near-riots, numerous assaults and criminal attacks on women.

The most serious rioting in the city proper took place in the west end, where the mob constantly swelled until it numbered over 5,000 brawling boys and men, refused to budge when charged by the inspectors. Finally a big squad of Metropolitan Park police, clubs in hand, appeared and waded into the front ranks. Then the mob, which meantime had looted a dozen small stores, turned and fled.

The riot they had grabbed through the broken plate glass windows was dropped in their right and littered

Boylston Square.

In two minutes the Metropolitan Park police had cleared the square, but a few minutes later the park policemen vanished as suddenly as they had appeared, and the hoodlums again formed into a gang.

Crap games were played openly, in the streets and on the sidewalks.

One such game was in progress on Tremont Row, within a stone's throw of police headquarters when Superintendent Crowley saw it. There was a gathering of several hundred, either engaged in the game or watching it. Superintendent Crowley elbowed his way through the throng and seized one of the players. The mob closed in on the official. As the superintendent dragged his prisoner towards Pemberton Square, Inspector Michael Burke went to his assistance. The two officers stood off the mob until they reached the brow of the hill where the mob seemed about to rescue the prisoner. Crowley and Burke whipped out their guns and covered the leaders of the mob, which turned and plunged down hill.

Even the striking officers themselves were not immune from attacks. In several cases men who had old grudges against the officers, lay in wait for them and beat them up after the policemen had turned in their clubs and revolvers.

Shoe stores seemed to be the special prey of the mobs. Early today shoes, valued at $8 and $9 a pair littered the gutters.

Some foresighted storekeepers stayed on guard at their stores all night and fired at the rioters who attempted to loot their windows.

John Mitchell's Body To Rest In Mining Country.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 10.—John Mitchell, labor leader and chairman of the New York State Industrial Commission, who died late yesterday, following an operation for gall stones, will be buried at Scranton, Pa., the center of his most noteworthy activities among the coal miners.

It was Mr. Mitchell's wish that his remains should rest amid the men he had helped. The obsequies will be held Saturday. His home was at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

WOOD BEFORE SENATE TODAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Eyes of embryo presidential candidates today turned to the senate to watch the performance of Major General Leonard Wood, who was to appear before the military affairs committee to give his views on the future military policy of the United States.

Although while General Wood's appearance and testimony had no political significance, those who are potential candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, felt that the policies outlined by Gen. Wood might be significant. With the exception of universal military training the features of the bill prepared by the war department and introduced in the senate and now under consideration by the military affairs committee, are not in line with some of the opinions General Wood is known to hold.

To Free Cossum.

The sentences of Charles Cossum, Poughkeepsie attorney, who misappropriated $150,000 of his clients' funds, and John Boris, convicted of robbery in Brooklyn, have been commuted by Governor Smith. Both will be freed as soon as the state board of pardons has passed on the governor's action. Cossum is blind. He shot himself, destroying his sight. He has served two years of a five-year term. Both men are in Sing Sing.

OBLIGATION

That means not just getting a good idea, but feeling a real responsibility to carry it out. Feeling that your powers are given to you for some purpose, and that the purpose should not be a selfish one. Acting in social and civic matters as if you had an account to render. Secret Service Work.

The name applied to that branch of the treasury department the duties of which are defined by law as to detect counterfeiting and to protect the president. The term "secret service" in its broader sense includes all of those agencies which detect violations of federal laws and which keep the government informed as to international relations. Military intelligence is the chief secret service agency in the United States and it is considered the most important of all.

Old Superstitions.

In the Highlands of Scotland it is taken as a seriously unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bride and groom on their wedding day, and brides still tell the boys of their wedding and demand the bride for the occasion. says the Philadelphia North American. In parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which no one seems to know the reason, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride and the guests all scramble for a piece.

WILLY HAS MUSICAL GENIUS

Willy Ferrero, 13 Years Old, and American Born, Is Capable Leader of Orchestra.

Willy Ferrero, 13, who leads 100-voice orchestras in selections of Wagner, Beethoven, Rossini, Grieg and others, is an American and was born in Portland, Me. The child has attracted the attention of Europe since he was 4 years old, but it was only lately that his American birth was noted by his parents, who are Swiss.

The lad was taken to Italy whither parents were returning to take up residence in their old home in Milan. When Willy was 4 he began a musical career leading an orchestra in the Folies Bergere in Paris. A year later he appeared in the Costauro Theater, Rome, where for the first time he led an orchestra of 100 pieces.

The child took his orchestra before Emperor Nicholas in 1913 and conducted two concerts for the monarch. In the same year his orchestra was taking an engagement to London, and he was commended to appear before Queen Alexandra at Marlborough House. He appeared before Pope Benedict XV in 1914. In April, 1915, just before Italy's declaration of war, Willy was presented with the gold medal by the Italian minister of education after he had made a successful appearance in the Amphitheatrum, where he had conducted an orchestra and chorus aggregating 300 participants.

NATIONAL HEROES OF FRANCE

Lazare Hoche and Ferdinand Foch Are Names to Be Forever Held in Grateful Memory.

Marshal Foch is taking a particular satisfaction at this time of the commemoration of a great victory to pay tribute to the name of Lazare Hoche, the famous young general who escaped the Revolutionary guillotine eventually to command the army of the Somme-Meuse which, though at first dispersed, bled and fed and bled equipped, performed the brilliant seven months' campaign which established the reputation of French arms on both sides of the Rhine. To this day at Weissenburg stands a monument to his memory and that of his brilliant young chief. No wonder Marshal Foch takes pleasure in recalling Lazare Hoche to his countrymen. Of Hoche it is said that he once proudly wrote to the minister for war of his day, "Je suis la patrie." The French of the present century would throw up their hats at such a sentiment as enthusiastically as the contemporaries of Hoche and Rouget de Lisle. With the great mass of men, though they do not perhaps express it so tersely, Foch is "la patrie" in the sense that he certainly stands for them as "la Victoire" personified.

High Heels Lessen Vitality.

High heels prevail in spite of the promise of something better in build coming into popular favor. Yet, to quote a well-known doctor: "No woman pretends that she is comfortable when wearing high heels nor can she hope to be graceful when wearing them, for the body is thrown out of balance and the action of the feet is restricted. More serious than her awkwardness is the eventual injury to her health. For in the effort to preserve her equilibrium the shoulders are thrown forward, depressing the chest; breathing is interfered with, and that means poorer blood and a final decrease in vitality. Time comes gradually, but it is inevitable when a woman persists in wearing very high heels, her body should conform to the arch of her instep."—Baltimore.

MILK, BACTERIA, FATS, AND $17

Occupied Attention of Health Board
—To Test Milk Monthly—The $17 Was What Education Board Wanted to Charge Health Board for Auditorium—Other Matters.

While the question of how many bacteria a cow should own to be accounted a perfectly healthy cow was not discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the board of health held Tuesday evening the question of the quality of milk the cow supplied the dealers of Kingston, who in turn supplied the consumer, was thoroughly discussed after the board had a chance to glance through the reports made on the milk supplied the city.

The board of health is generous and allows a bottle of milk to contain 200,000 bacteria, but when the bugs began to populate the bottle more freely than that the board believes something should be done. The board also requires Grade B milk sold in Kingston to have 3.5 per cent butter fat, and while the reports of the tests were not made public it is understood that several did not meet the required tests.

That led the board to decide to have all milk sold in Kingston tested one month for the butter fat and the bacteria count and to have all farms selling milk here scored twice a year, in the spring and fall, instead of once a year, and then to make public the scores.

$17, Payable in Advance.
The week of October 5 has been set aside by New York state as the week to carry on an educational campaign in regard to venereal diseases. The state health department wrote the health board some time ago asking the board to secure a hall in which a public meeting could be held on October 9 and 10, the one night for women and girls, and the other night for men and boys.

The board took the matter up with the education board, and asked for the use of the high school auditorium for the two nights.

Secretary Sahloff read a communication from the education board in which it was stated that the health board have the use of the auditorium for the two nights at the "usual rates"—$17 a night, payable in advance.

As the meetings are to be educational the board were of the opinion that no charge should be made for the auditorium for the two evenings in question.

The board will also arrange for a series of talks to be held in the industrial plants that week by a male physician and a female physician from the state department, who will also deliver the lectures at the high school.

Joyce Resigns; O'Neil Hired.
Miss Julia C. Joyce, the city health nurse, filed her resignation with the board to take effect the first of the month, when she will assume a position with the health board of New York city.

Her resignation was accepted with regret, and Mrs. Mary O'Neil, who formerly held the position but resigned to take up work in Rockland county, was appointed to assume her duties October 1.

Garbage Collectors Lay.
The board also discussed the question of garbage collectors, and the fact was brought out that they were getting very careless and lax in collecting garbage, and were not using tightly covered cans to carry the garbage in.

Sanitary Inspector Stork will get busy, and see that the regulations are obeyed.

Venereal Clinics Held.
Health Officer Frank A. Johnston reported that venereal clinics had been held, but there was no report to be made for no one had applied for treatment since the clinic opened.

No Diphtheria Epidemic.
The health officer also called attention to the five diphtheria cases reported in August and stated that two of the cases had been brought in from outside the city, while the three cases in Kingston were not of school age.

Dr. Johnston said that he now saw no reason to fear an epidemic of diphtheria.

Reports Of Officers.
Health Officer Johnston also reported that there were no measles, no typhoid fever, and but 1 case of whooping cough reported in August. Last August 5 diphtheria, 5 measles, 3 typhoid fever and 1 whooping cough had been reported.

Miss Joyce, city health nurse, also submitted a report showing that she had made 100 visits during August. She had visited 66 cases of whooping cough which had never been reported for the reason that the parents had not called in a physician, but treated the patient with home remedies. She had also instructed 12 mothers in care and feeding of children.

Sanitary Inspector Stork's Report.
Sanitary Inspector William H. Stork submitted his report showing that 16 complaints had been received and investigated. He had ordered three nuisances abated.

Plumbing Inspector's Report.
Plumbing Inspector Fred M. Dressel's report showed three sewer permits issued, and 4 plans approved. There was also 1 yard vault discontinued.

"DIRECT" BITE TEETH

After years of experimenting our laboratories have discovered a direct bite set of artificial teeth. These plates improve the sense of taste and insure perfect enunciation and articulation. The teeth absolutely cannot be discerned from natural teeth. These teeth because of the direct bite have three times the biting strength of ordinary plates. Are you now wearing artificial teeth? If so, we strongly advise you to call and investigate this new plate.

TO LICENSE ALL AUTO OPERATORS

Important Amendments to Motor Laws to Come Before Auto Association Convention—To Aid Col. Greene and Major Chandler.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10.—All plans of the Albany Automobile Club to receive and entertain the great gathering of members of the New York State Automobile Association are rapidly maturing. The sixteenth annual convention of this state-wide organization of motorists, at the Ten Eyck hotel, Albany, October 6th and 7th, will devise an important constructive legislative program and set afoot a campaign for a more rigid enforcement of motor vehicle and general traffic laws. The association, in spite of the high cost of living and general conditions, now has the largest membership in its history and is in a better position than ever before to carry on its valuable work in behalf of the motorists of the state and nation. Delegates, including women, from the 123 local automobile clubs which now make up the association, representing practically every place of importance in the state, will be present to participate in the elaborate entertainment being arranged by the Albany Automobile Club under the personal direction of President George D. Babbitt and his committees which are directed by William Humphrey, Charles Palmer, Chauncey Hakes, Peter G. Ten Eyck, Dr. James Van Der Ver and Arthur Palmer.

Alexandria Bay, Saratoga Springs and the Automobile Club of New York are the new clubs which will send delegates for the first time to the State Automobile Association convention. The convention will convene at 10 a. m., October 6th, in the tea room of the Ten Eyck Hotel and in the afternoon of the same day prominent speakers will include Secretary of State Hugo, Highway Commissioner Fred K. Greene and Superintendent of State Police Major George F. Chandler. The association will cooperate in every possible way with Col. Greene to secure a favorable vote on a $100,000,000 bond issue, which he has announced will be necessary to complete the present highway program of the state and to secure federal aid. The New York State Automobile Association was the factor in securing the passage of the last two bond issues for the construction of our present highway system.

It is also planned to assist Major Chandler in securing legislation and appropriations for the necessary increase in the force of the state police so that this already efficient but too small force may render even better service in the more thorough enforcement of the motor vehicle, traffic, anti-glare headlight and other laws. A large percentage of automobile accidents can be traced directly to the inadequate enforcement of these laws.

Two important pieces of legislation affecting motorists upon which the convention will take definite action include amendments to make the law more equitable which increases fees on pleasure cars after February 1st, next, as it has been found practically impossible to work out anything like a fair or dependable basis of taxation in accordance with the new law as it stands on account of the large list of "Orphan Cars."

The association will again draw up legislation for the licensing and examination on the rules of the road of all operators of automobiles throughout the state, and will endeavor again, as it has for several years past, at each session of the legislature, to have this safety measure made state-wide in its application instead of discriminating in favor of New York city.

A large number of accidents and deaths due to incompetent and reckless operation of automobiles and the ignorance of the rules of road during the present touring season has awakened the authorities to the necessity of immediate and insistent action. The Times Union and other newspapers at the capital have already begun an active campaign for the rigid enforcement of the present motor vehicle and uniform traffic laws which are measures of safety, do not create hardships on anyone and which if known, understood and observed by the half million motor car operators in this state and the million operators from other states who are constantly touring the Empire state, hundreds of lives would not have been sacrificed and hundreds of thousands of dollars would not have been lost in damage to machines and property.

Both Governor and Mrs. Smith will take prominent parts in the entertainment of delegates during the state convention. A special program has been provided for the ladies who are expected to be fully represented and includes a banquet at the Ten Eyck hotel, and at which the governor, Commissioner Enright of New York city and a prominent woman orator will be among the speakers.

On the 7th, the election of officers will take place in the morning and the convention will close in the afternoon with an automobile ride and entertainment at Weller's Roost.

Well, it's Worth to Try. What is said to be the record for resuscitation from drowning was accomplished by United States life-guard after the victim had been submerged for six minutes. Among a great many persons the erroneous belief exists that persons can be resuscitated after having been in the water a great length of time. Cases have been known where persons resuscitated methods were used for hours after the drowned persons had been under water for a half-hour, or even longer. Then it will be seen that drowning is a quick death and the chance of the water cure, speedily great.—Exchange.

ULSTER BAR ASS'N OUTING SEPT. 20

Arrangements are being made for an outing of the members of the Ulster county bar, this year instead of the usual annual banquet. D. G. Atkins president of the Bar Association and Henry Klein, the secretary, who canvassed the members, have found nearly every member in favor of the movement. The plans are to have the outing not far distant from the city in the Catskills, probably at Ideal Park, where after refreshments are served out of doors by Casper Keister, the well-known caterer, there will be games with which the barristers were familiar in their boyhood and college days, also a baseball match. Members of the Bar have been making up tentative teams to cross bats, with D. G. Atkins as umpire, his long experience in keeping men in line as a grand marshal making it certain the players would be properly curbed. With Judge Betts as catcher and Judge Hasbrouck as pitcher on one team, having Judge Clearwater, short stop, DeWitt Roosa, Daniel B. Deyo and Chris A. Murray on the bases to assist, and Henry Klein, pitcher, Milton O. Auchmoody, catcher, on another, and Mayor Canfield, Walter N. Gill and Howard Chipp to look after the bases on the opposing team, a base ball game could be had that would be worth a long journey to see. Both teams could be strengthened by such old time semi-professionals as Judge John C. Van Eten, Amos Van Eten, City Judge Harry Schirlick, Fred Stephan, Jr., William D. Brinnler, Sr., Frank W. Brooks, Judge Jenkins, Judge Fowler, Everett Fowler, Philip Elting and others. The date set for the outing is Saturday, September 20th and President Atkins invites members of the Bar Association who own automobiles to donate the use of them for the taking of the less fortunate members to the outing place, and to have them at the court house on that day at 12 o'clock, noon. The officers of the Ulster county bar association are D. G. Atkins, president; Joseph M. Fowler, vice president; Henry Klein, secretary; Frederick Stephan, Jr., treasurer.

HIT BY BULLET.

Scout Batter Saved His Life By Scout First Aid.

While digging clams in company with a twelve-year-old boy, Scout Gordon Batter, patrol leader of Troup No. 5, New Rochelle, N. Y., was injured by a stray rifle shot in the abdomen. Both boys were in their bathing suits, but with apparently nothing to work with, Gordon administered first aid to himself before he let his friend paddle him four miles home.

First he had the boy help him into the water so he could cleanse the wound, and then took the strings from around the waist of his bathing suit and jammed them into the wound until he quenched the flow of blood. From his own and the other fellows' suit he tore enough to improvise a pad and strips with which he bound himself up, and then tumbled into the bottom of the canoe.

Before starting, Gordon told the boy to dash cold water in his face should he be getting faint. When he felt he was getting very weak, he asked that the lunch be opened because he thought a sandwich would keep up his strength.

When the surgeons arrived at the boy's home they refused to touch the dressing, saying its effectiveness could not be improved upon, and that if it had not been for Gordon's Boy Scout training in first aid he would not have been alive when he reached home.

His father writes: "I feel that have the Boy Scout organization to thank for having my boy alive today, and I shall help all I can in building up this splendid organization."

GOV'T READY TO MAKE OWN ARMOR

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, D. C., September 10, 1919.—The new naval ordnance plant at South Charleston, W. Va., is now about to begin the manufacture of armor plate and forgings for guns of large caliber, entirely new lines of work for government plants. The South Charleston plant is a $19,000,000 enterprise occupying more than 200 acres of land. It will be ready for making armor and heavy forgings as soon as the assembling of the necessary working force can be completed. Disturbed labor conditions incident to the war have been responsible for a delay in getting the work started. The new plant is equipped with every modern appliance for the manufacture of its specialties and will turn out annually 50,000 tons of armor plate, guns, projectiles, and miscellaneous ordnance forgings. Engineers, metallurgists, and mill and machine shop men will be interested in the positions which are to be filled in the supervisory and subordinate forces. The United States

Civil Service Commission has announced for this plant the need of a superintendent of melting shops at $5,000 a year, a superintendent of force shops at $5,000 a year, foremen of heat treatment of armor, from $10 to $14.40 a day, foremen of heat treatment of large guns at from $8 to $12.56 a day, foremen of 14,000 ton presses for armor and large caliber guns at from $11.84 to $13.28 a day, and foremen of heat treatment of projectiles at $8 a day. Applicants for these positions will not be given scholastic tests in an examination room but will be rated on their training and experience, weighted at 90%, and their physical ability weighed at 10%. Detailed information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office or custom house in any of 3,000 cities. Journeymen workmen and helpers should apply direct to the labor board at the South Charleston plant.

HEARING ON WEYGANT SANITY

At special term of county court held Monday at chambers before Judge Joseph M. Fowler, J. Deputy Hasbrouck, representing Attorney John Hall, asked that a commission be appointed to hear testimony in the matter of Elizabeth Weygant, an alleged incompetent person. Newton H. Fessenden, Dr. Harry Van Wagenen and Capt. B. J. Hornbeck were appointed a commission to hear testimony and an adjournment was taken until Friday, September 12th. DeWitt C. Ostrander appeared for relatives of Miss Weygant.

The Weygant property involved amounts to a considerable sum. Elizabeth Weygant for some time was a patient at the state hospital and was later released as improved in mind. Several days ago she attempted to commit suicide in a pond by drowning and was saved by her brother, Augustus, who apparently, after getting her into a boat was unable to release himself from the muddy bottom of the pond near Lattingtown, in the town of Marlborough, where the affair took place, and he was drowned. Miss Weygant was found sitting in the boat and her brother a short distance away standing in the water dead. A few days later she was committed to the state hospital for feeble minded.

Fair Play Imperative.

"Business is business" is a motto all workers should keep before them. They should demand their rights, but should remember that those in authority have rights also, and are entitled to fair, honest treatment from the people they employ. Therefore, one must learn to be punctual, non-talkative and kindly to their associates. The employee who swears from this code is not playing fair with employer and certainly should keep silent on the question of equal rights—Exchange.

WILSON SPENDS A QUIET DAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Bismarck, N. D., Sept. 10.—President Wilson enjoyed a very restful period today, his only stop of moment being two hours here in North Dakota's capital. The rest admittedly was welcome after Tuesday's strenuous in the twin cities. It allowed the president to rest up his vocal chords preparatory to the great strains that will be placed on his voice when he reaches the Pacific coast country on Friday.

Famished Soul

By EVELYN LEE. It might have been wicker that Midge Griscum experienced a sense of relief when the funeral of her husband was over. She had never loved him and he knew it, and she could not regret the sense of freedom that had come to her. To the last hour of his life she had been kind, attentive and considerate towards him. She had fulfilled every wife's duty, she had even given over to him the means to finance him in business. It was true that she had not inherited the same, many times augmented, but she had worked side by side with him at a desk, and the first thing she had done in taking over his estate was to place a charge against it that would insure a competence for his aged parents.

HUGGINS LIKES SOX'S CHANCES

By Telegram to The Freeman

New York, Sept. 10.—Miller Huggins likes the White Sox in the coming world's series.

The midday manager of the New York Yankees opines that the Alabaster Hose should defeat the Reds in the October classic for two reasons:

First of all, Hug points out that the Sox have encountered and consistently defeated much better teams all season than the Reds have been called upon to defeat. Secondly, the little manager believes that the long distance hitters of the Sox will outpace the heavy sluggers of the Moran men.

Hug is pretty well qualified to make predictions. After years of experience in the National League and several seasons in the American he has had an opportunity to size up the playing in both circuits and make note of the individual qualities of the various teams. But let him tell it here as he recently told it in a moment of inspiration.

"I have little or no sympathy with those who insist that the National League is a minor in comparison with the American as to their respective standards of play," chirped Huggins. "There is very little difference between the two leagues, and that is the way it should be; the way the fans would have it. But I can truthfully say that there have been more strong teams fighting for the American League pennant this season than has been the case in the National. It has been that way for a number of years."

"This means that Chicago ought to be the better team. The White Sox should be stronger than the Reds on both offense and defense, because they have been up against stronger teams and stiffer competition throughout the season. They have seldom found a soft series."

"Playing so many hard games, I should think, would give the Sox a better balance in a tight series such as the world's series usually is and should be this year. And there is something else in Chicago's favor."

"The hard, long-distance hitters in the White Sox batting order should carry a lot of weight in the outcome of the October battle. Eddie Collins, Joe Jackson, Oscar Felsch, who is hitting well again this season; Buck Weaver and Fred McMullen, not to mention Chick Gandil, should make their long hitting felt. John Collins also hits them far away."

"After all is said, you will see that it is the long hitter who breaks up world's series. Men like Baker, Gowdy, Lewis, Hooper, Felsch and Ruth have proven this in past series, and it is my belief that the Sox will show more strength in long hitting than their opponents."

Huggins admittedly believes that Felsch, Weaver, Collins and other Sox swatsmen will outpace Danbert, Roush and Neale, the heavy hitters of the Reds. He is certainly qualified to make comparisons, and in all probability he bases his contention on the belief that American League sluggers have had to face tougher pitching. October will give us a line on Hug's guessing ability.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Said To Be Like The Town It Comes From.

When people want to interest distant friends in their home town, they send away copies of the local newspaper.

When anyone wants to know what kind of a place a distant town is, he sends and gets a copy of the local newspaper.

When the merchants are full of courage and advertise freely, an impression is created among the many people outside the town who see the paper that this is an exceedingly bright and wide awake business town. If at times the merchants let up a little on their advertising, the town does not look so good to outsiders.

In supporting the home paper, therefore, you not merely get the local and business news, but you help on all civic causes, you are enabled to participate in the fullest extent in its life, and you help the town exert influence and create a favorable impression outside.—Suffolk County Review.
